

Privacy & terms of use

Whilst every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the materials in these pages, The Merseyside Branch of Narpo (the Branch) is not liable for any inaccuracies or omissions. Accordingly, the Branch do not accept liability for any loss occasioned to any person relying on it.

Privacy statement

Information provided to the Branch by the users of this website will be treated in confidence and will not be disclosed the third parties unless required to do so by law.

Personal information

The Branch website does not store or capture personal information. We may collect and store information such as the originating IP address, the domain name and the URL of the referring page. This information is used only to allow the Branch to measure the number of visitors to the site, which can be used to help assess how it can be improved.

Cookies

A 'cookie' is a piece of information stored on your hard drive which allows web servers to collect information from your visit to the site. It saves a small amount of data to your computer, which the website then uses on repeat visits.

The Branch website uses cookies to record your preferences while on this site. The cookies do not collect any personal data and are only used to personalise the website for you. You can disable cookies from your browser options.

Links to other sites

The Branch website contains links to other websites. This privacy statement does not cover other websites and the Branch is not responsible for the practices of other sites.

Updates to this statement

Should the Branch choose to update or change this statement, the changes will be posted on this page.
